

BILL JAMES

A HARPUR & ILES MYSTERY

Pay Days

B. James

Chief Superintendent Colin Harpur and his brilliant, amoral superior ACC Desmond Iles face a dilemma that's both political and personal when they suspect a police officer of taking bribes from underworld criminals Panicking Ralph Ember and Top Banana Mansel Shale. Is Nivette doing some unauthorized undercover work-as Harpur himself often does-or is he really bent? It's a question of intense interest not only to Harpur and Iles but also to Ember and Shale, and searching for the answer entails several break-ins to Nivette's house to look for, take, or plant the evidence. Meanwhile, the body of a pusher, Victor Goussard (Slow Victor), is found trussed up on a deserted boat in the city harbor-and then it disappears. His lover frantically, unwisely, starts to ask questions down at the docks a snoopy television reporter sees a breaking story and Ember, terrified of exposure, plots the murder of a man who knows too much. Harpur is fast on the trail to make the connections and prevent another crime, but it's a race against time-and treachery.
