Excerpt from Peace Through the Truth, Vol. 1: Or, Essays on Subjects Connected With Dr. Puseys Eirenicon He has, in conclusion, to express his heartfelt thanks first of all, and in an especial manner, to the Rev. Father Eyre, one of his brother Professors, who has almost taken the labour of passing the sheets through the press off his hands and to David Lewis, Esq., who, though personally unknown to the author, has supplied him with quotations from two authors, whose works he was unable to find, even in the National Library. He desires also to express his gratitude to the Librarians and others officially connected with the Reading-room of the British Museum for their extra ordinary attention and civility to him, when he had occasion to consult the library which is under their care.
